

About Wendy Bigelson:

I am an active member of the Boulder community. I am raising 2 boys(after losing my husband in 2006) whom are now in High School and College. In each day I try to find something to appreciate and enjoy.

In addition to my Private Practice, I stay busy volunteering at the local high school, serve as an Advancement Chair in a Boy Scout troop and participate in many other charitable community events such as food drives,educational fund raisers, and most recently flood relief efforts. Contributing to the good of the community is part of my spiritual base.

Like most Coloradans I am drawn to an active lifestyle- I enjoy hiking,biking,skiing, Pilates and Yoga. And, I am also a fan of watching the Broncos and Ultimate Frisbee. Like many, I work to find that magical balance as a working parent!
